MELISSA ENDEAN TO PERFORM LIVE AT CIRCLE OF SONGWRITERS AT THE PENTHOUSE NIHTCLUB ON DECEMBER 2ND

Vancouver November 7, 2007 – Rave On Studio presents Vancouver’s newest musical sensation Melissa Endean as part of a Circle of Songwriters, live at the The Penthouse Nightclub at 1019 Seymour Street, on Sunday December 2nd at 7:30 p.m. Appearing with Melissa are Coco Love Alcorn and Christa Couture. Admission is $6 at the door.

Born and raised in BC's Okanagan Valley, coming from a musical family with a grandfather who played with Johnny Cash, and having been encouraged to write music from a very young age, Melissa’s lyrics and melodies have inspired listeners from the Calgary Stampede to the Merritt Mountain Music Festival. If ever there was such a thing as 'soul' music, this is it at its most basic root and in its most ancient form. This talented musician calls to you through all time and space and you will welcome the cool touch.

Whether it's touring North America opening for Ani DeFranco, making videos with Kinnie Starr or writing songs with Marc Jordan, Coco Love Alcorn has been a unique and powerful Canadian musical force for over a decade. The critically acclaimed vocalist first made her presence felt with the independent release of her eponymous debut in 1995. Produced by Juno award winner Rick Kilburn, the well received album introduced Canada to a stunning new vocalist who displayed a mastery of technique well beyond her years.

Christa Couture gives up all her lovely and messy bits to a blend of folk, quirk and bark. A formidable talent armed with a haunting voice and a quick-witted, poignant turn-of-phrase, her live performances are energetic and moving. It is in this context that Christa’s work is at its spontaneous best – fueling her attentive audience with candor, wit and passion. “With a wide-eyed and inviting tenderness” (Edmonton Sun), this childhood cancer survivor speaks honestly about illness, loss, and uncertainty, spinning heartache, fear and hope into passionate and compelling music and lyrics.
